

POSITION DESCRIPTION

CYBER SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT ADVISOR, DIRECTOR

WASHINGTON, D.C. PREFERRED

POSTED ON DECEMBER 4, 2020

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED ON A ROLLING BASIS

ANTICIPATED START DATE: DECEMBER 2020 OR JANUARY 2021

GOOD HARBOR SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT, LLC: Good Harbor is a boutique cyber risk advisory firm that advises CEOs, Boards, government leaders, and investment professionals on cyber security risk management. Good Harbor's chairman, Richard A. Clarke, is an internationally renowned expert on cybersecurity, counterterrorism, and national security. He served as a senior White House advisor to three Presidents through an unprecedented 11 consecutive years of White House service, including as Special Advisor to the President for Cyber Security, and is the author of The Fifth Domain: Defending Our Country, Our Companies, and Ourselves in the Age of Cyber Threats. Read more about our team and our firm: www.goodharbor.net.

THE POSITION: Good Harbor is seeking a highly motivated, diligent, and experienced individual to join its team as a director-level Cyber Security Risk Management Advisor.

As a director with Good Harbor, your responsibilities will include the following:

- Help corporate and not-for-profit clients improve their cyber security risk management by advising them on “all things cyber security”: threats, risks, and geopolitical risk conditions; policies, laws, and regulations; the technology landscape; and, best practices on managing their own risk through cyber security strategies, programs, policies, technologies, and crisis management preparedness;
- Lead or support client service delivery on designated projects (typically governance reviews, risk assessments, and crisis management simulations or tabletop exercises), including project management, team management, research, analysis, meetings, briefings, and deliverables;
- Lead or support business development on designated client-specific opportunities (including but not limited to capture management and proposal development) and/or marketing campaigns

- Support the firm's intellectual property development and/or its profile through research, writing, reporting, and/or presenting on a range of cyber, security, and related topics
- Perform other duties and responsibilities, including occasional management and administrative tasks, as required

Location and Travel: The location is remote within the U.S. during the covid19 pandemic, though Washington, D.C. is preferred and may be required after covid19 conditions ease. Before the covid19 pandemic, travel for this role was typically ~25% domestic travel, and we presume this will resume some time, likely after mid-2021.

Salary and Benefits: This is a full-time position offering a competitive salary and generous benefits including health insurance, 401K, and a flexible work schedule.

YOU / THE IDEAL CANDIDATE: The ideal candidate is highly motivated, diligent, and has a track record of success as a consultant performing the position responsibilities described above, and/or experience managing a cyber security program for an enterprise.

They are interested in national security, technology, politics, and policy. They can write and brief extremely well, have great interpersonal skills, pay attention to details, and have a sense of humor. They are comfortable working independently with little guidance and also within a team in a fast-paced environment.

The ideal candidate has a graduate degree related to business, law, policy, or computer science, and/or commensurate professional experience. They have experience working with cyber security regimes such as NIST Cybersecurity Framework, NIST 800-171, IEC 62443, and so on. They may have certifications such as Security+ or CISSP. They complement the existing team's knowledge base and skillsets through deep experience with one or more of the topics described in Position Responsibilities above.

DEADLINE AND HOW TO APPLY: We will receive applications beginning December 4, 2020 and on a rolling basis until the position is filled. To apply, please send a CV to [team at goodharbor.net]. Please include "Director" in the subject line. You may also include a cover letter and/or short writing sample demonstrating writing suitable to a professional consulting environment. Good Harbor is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks candidates from diverse personal and professional backgrounds.